

Lesson Guide: Choosing What to Sell

Overview

This lesson will guide you through the process of selecting the type of service you want to sell and the industry/vertical you want to focus on. You will complete a worksheet to help you make an informed decision based on your interests, strengths, and market opportunities.

Worksheet: Choosing What to Sell

Section 1: Self-Assessment

Objective: Understand your interests, strengths, and preferences to determine the best fit for you.

Questions:

1. What are your professional strengths? (e.g., communication, technical knowledge, relationship-building)
 - Solid communication skills, relationship-building, trustworthiness, and empathy. I'm great at making people feel at ease and confident in what I offer.

2. What industries are you most interested in? (e.g., e-commerce, retail, B2B)
 - Fitness, wellness, massage therapy, chiropractic, boxing gyms, and Filipino-owned businesses across these and other service industries (e.g., salons, restaurants, dental/medical clinics, retail stores).

3. Do you prefer selling to businesses (B2B) or directly to consumers (B2C)?
 - B2B. I enjoy connecting with business owners, learning about their operations, and helping them improve how they get paid.

4. What type of sales environment do you thrive in? (e.g., fast-paced, consultative, transactional)
 - Consultative and relationship-based sales. I like being the trusted advisor instead of the pushy salesman. I do great in face-to-face or 1-on-1 convos.

5. What motivates you in a sales role? (e.g., commission, helping others, solving problems)

- Helping others succeed, building long-term relationships, and earning commission through results I can feel proud of.
-

Section 2: Market Research

Objective: Evaluate the market opportunities for different types of services and industries.

Steps:

1. Identify Potential Markets: Research and list potential markets you are interested in.
 - Cash Discount
 - Fitness & Wellness (gyms, spas, massage therapy)
 - B2B (Chiropractors, boxing gyms, coaching businesses)
 - Retail (Health shops, boutique studios)
2. Analyze Market Demand: Look for data on market size, growth potential, and demand for each market.
 - Wellness and fitness are booming. People care more about health and stress relief, which means more spas, gyms, and wellness businesses are opening. Many are still using outdated payment systems or paying high fees.

3. Evaluate Competition: Research the competition in each market to understand the landscape.
 - There's moderate competition, but not many reps truly understand the wellness/fitness world. My background gives me an edge.

4. Identify Key Players: Note the major companies and competitors in each market.
 - Big POS companies (Square, Mindbody, Vagaro), local wellness software providers, but many don't offer full service or savings analysis like I can.

Section 3: Service Selection

Objective: Choose the type of service you want to sell based on your self-assessment and market research.

Options:

1. E-commerce Solutions
 - Description: Tools and services that support online businesses, such as payment gateways, shopping cart integrations, and marketing automation.
 - Pros: High demand, scalable, global reach.
 - Cons: Highly competitive, requires technical knowledge.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?

- X Not my strength — too technical, less relationship-focused.
-

2. Retail Solutions

- Description: Services tailored for brick-and-mortar stores, including POS systems, inventory management, and customer loyalty programs.
 - Pros: Tangible product, growing need for digital integration.
 - Cons: Requires understanding of physical retail operations, potential for in-person sales.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - ☒ Yes, especially for spas, fitness studios, and massage clinics. These are physical spaces with people paying in person.
-

3. B2B Solutions

- Description: Services aimed at other businesses, such as bulk payment processing, invoicing solutions, and business financing.
 - Pros: Larger transaction sizes, potential for long-term relationships.
 - Cons: Longer sales cycle, requires deep understanding of business operations.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - ☒ Also a fit. Chiropractors and fitness business owners count as B2B. I understand how they operate and can relate.
-

4. Cash Discount Programs

- Description: Programs that allow merchants to offer discounts for cash payments, reducing credit card processing fees.
 - Pros: Clear value proposition, cost savings for merchants.
 - Cons: Requires education of merchants, potential pushback from customers.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - ☒ Yes. Simple value proposition. I can easily explain how it saves them money and still keeps clients happy if done right.
-

5. Elevate POS Solutions

- Description: An advanced POS system with features tailored for the food and beverage industry, including table-side ordering and payment.
 - Pros: High demand in F&B, innovative features, strong support.
 - Cons: Niche market, requires understanding of restaurant operations.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - ☒ Possibly, if I decide to focus more on food/beverage later, but not my main vertical right now.
-

Section 4: Industry/Vertical Selection

Objective: Choose the industry/vertical you want to focus on based on your interests and market opportunities.

Options:

1. E-commerce

- Description: Online retail and digital services.
 - Pros: Fast-growing market, broad range of potential clients.
 - Cons: Highly competitive, rapidly changing.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - X No — not aligned with my strengths or experience.
-

2. Retail

- Description: Physical stores and retail chains.
 - Pros: Tangible products, established market.
 - Cons: Impacted by economic shifts, need for physical presence.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - ☒ Yes — massage clinics, spas, and gyms count here. These are places I understand better firsthand.
-

3. B2B

- Description: Business-to-business services and products.
 - Pros: Large deals, long-term relationships.
 - Cons: Longer sales cycles, requires in-depth industry knowledge.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - ☒ Yes — chiropractors, fitness coaches, independent wellness providers are great B2B clients for me.
-

4. Food and Beverage

- Description: Restaurants, cafes, and other food service providers.
 - Pros: Constant demand, innovation opportunities.
 - Cons: High turnover, niche market.
 - Is this a good fit for you? Why or why not?
 - X Not my world right now — I'll revisit later if needed.
-

Section 5: Final Decision

Objective: Make an informed decision on the type of service and industry/vertical you want to focus on.

Steps:

1. Review Your Answers: Go through your responses in the previous sections.
2. Make a Decision: Choose the type of service and industry/vertical that best aligns with your strengths, interests, and market opportunities.

- Chosen Service: Retail & B2B Payment Solutions with a focus on Card Present systems and Cash Discount programs.
 - Chosen Industry/Vertical: Fitness Studios, Massage Clinics, Spas, Chiropractic Offices, and Combat Sports Gyms (Boxing/MMA).
-

3. Plan Your Next Steps: Outline the steps you need to take to start selling your chosen service in your selected industry/vertical.

OUTLINE:

- STEP 1: Pick My Core Niche
 - I'm focusing on fitness, wellness, and Filipino-owned service businesses, including massage clinics, boxing gyms, spas, and chiropractors.
- STEP 2: Build a Target List of Businesses
 - Use Yelp, Google Maps, LinkedIn, and Instagram to find 30–50 local or regional businesses in my niche.
 - Prioritize places I've been to, trained at, or have mutual connections with.
- STEP 3: Craft My Outreach Script
 - Create a simple, conversational script for in-person visits, DMs, and phone calls that highlights:
 - i. My background in wellness/fitness
 - ii. That I work with small businesses
 - iii. That I help them save on credit card processing and improve how they get paid
- STEP 4: Start Prospecting Daily
 - Reach out to at least 10 businesses per day using a mix of in-person drop-ins, Instagram DMs, and phone calls.
 - Track all activity and follow-ups in a spreadsheet or CRM.
- STEP 5: Ask for Processing Statements
 - Aim to collect 3–5 statements per week by offering a free savings analysis.
 - Position it as a simple checkup that could save them hundreds or thousands.
- STEP 6: Run Savings Analyses & Present Value
 - Use the statement breakdown tools provide to run clear cost comparisons.
 - Book time to review savings and benefits — emphasize support, next-day funding, and free equipment.
- STEP 7: Close and Submit Applications
 - Once a client is ready, walk them through the application process.
 - Stay on top of underwriting and clearly explain timelines.

- STEP 8: Follow Up & Provide Support
 - After onboarding, check in with clients to make sure they're satisfied.
 - Ask for referrals — especially from Filipino-owned businesses who may refer within their network.
- STEP 9: Refine My Pitch Weekly
 - Track which approaches work best and adjust based on feedback.
 - Continue learning about my niche to speak their language even better.
- STEP 10: Stay Consistent
 - Stick to my daily goals, stay organized, and keep showing up — because consistency is what leads to real results in this industry.
- ---

Conclusion

Recap:

- Importance of aligning your strengths and interests with market opportunities.
- The process of evaluating different services and industries.
- Making an informed decision to focus your sales efforts.

Next Steps:

- Begin researching and learning more about your chosen service and industry/vertical.
- Develop your sales pitch and gather necessary sales resources.
- Start reaching out to potential clients and building your sales pipeline.

By completing this worksheet, you will have a clear direction for your sales efforts, ensuring you focus on the services and industries where you can provide the most value and achieve the greatest success.